

Class 8: Navigation with CSS

---

Print stylesheets

View page without CSS

Code semantics revision

Transforming a list into a navigation bar

CSS rollovers (two images)

CSS rollovers (one image – sprite)

CSS3 gradient rollovers

Layering background images

References

CSS and HTML Web Design by Craig Grannell

Head First HTML with CSS & XHTML by Elizabeth Freeman & Eric Freeman

HTML and CSS Web Standards Solutions by Chris Murphy & Nicklas Persson

The Art & Science of CSS by Cameron Adams et. al.

CSS Mastery (2nd Ed.) by Andy Budd

<http://www.cssnewbie.com/7-tips-print-style-sheets/>

<http://www.cssnewbie.com/super-simple-horizontal-navigation-bar/>

<http://css-tricks.com/158-css-sprites/>

<http://css-tricks.com/5700-css3-gradients/>

Class 8 Homework

Read: Chapter 5 of The Art & Science of CSS

Chapter 6 of CSS Mastery

Chapter 5 of CSS and HTML Web Design

Your coursework this week is to focus on the Small Business Project. For next weeks' presentation you will need to present your completed work for this project. If you haven't yet designed the navigation, you might like to use the technique discussed in this week's class – or research other methods.